MOUNTAIN WATER

Flowed from Fire Hydrants in Safford on Last Wednesday

The first mountain water that ever flowed into Safford through water mains was turned on Safford's streets Wednesday evening through the fire hydrants by the Gila Valley Electric, Gas and Water Co. This is an event that the people of this valley have been hoping for the past twenty-five years. We all knew the water was in the mountains, abundance of it, pure and fresh. The only obstacle was the capital to put it into the valley. None of us had it. None of us seemed to know how or where to get it. It was an undertaking that seemed too big for us. We all knew we wanted the water, and also knew the water was to be had, provided a sufficient amount of capital could be procured. It was procured, and the water is here, without one cent being invested by the people of this country. Not one cent was solicited and not one cent was offered, and S. S. Campbell, of Brooklyn, Mass., who saw the opportunity and has accomplished that which all of us failed to accomplish in the years preceding.

The undertaking was a gigantic one, and while Mr. Campbell has spent a vast amount of money to give us this water, it will, within a short time, pay a handsome dividend, as it should.

After the franchise was granted by the people of Safford, Mr. Campbell went right ahead and gave us the water works, without soliciting even one customer, and within a very few months he will give us an electric light system that will be a credit to any city under the same system. Every home and business house in this town should not only be a subscriber for the water, but the electric lights as well. And we believe they will.

We take our hat off to Mr. Campbell.

MARKET REPORT

Kansas City Stock Yards, November 4, 1912.—There was a good many readjustments of values in the various classes of cattle last week, price changes being governed by the volume of the supply in each class. More short fed steers came in than in any two weeks previously this fall, and that kind lost 15 to 40 cents. Prime steers are not considered to have been involved in the decline, though there were none of the finished variety offered. Cows and heifers continue scarce, and they closed the week 10 to 15 cents higher. Veal demand got ahead of the supply, and prices went up 25 to 75 cents. Stocker and feeder demand fell a little and values slumped off 20 to 30 cents. Quarantine steers sold readily, and closed with the same advance noted on cows and heifers. Range cattle from the panhandle, New Mexico and Colorado were offered freely, and had to stand the same mutations as the offerings from native territory. Today the run is cut in two by the proximity of the election, and the trade looks for a light run tomorrow, the day of voting. Killing kinds sold quickly today at 10 to 25 cents higher prices, the 10,000 head received not being enough to go round. The condition today in largely fictitious but it reflects a healthy basis. Stock and feeding cattle were content with a slight advance today, and cows and heifers likewise sold merely strong, veal calves up another quarter. Top short fed steers $10.00, quarantine steers $6.75, range beef $7.25, feeders $7.50, stock steers $6.75, range cows and heifers $6.00, panhandle cows $5.25, wet cows $4.40, veal calves $9.75. The hog break was stopped the middle of last week, and considerable repair work has been done since then, continuing today. Run is 5,000 here today, prices 5 to 10 higher, top $7.90, bulk $7.65 to $7.85. Country buyers are advised to beware of boards this month, as prices are said to be too high to warrant heavy packing operation. Sheep and lambs are looking up somewhat, runs having fallen off from the range country. Dealers have been expecting a raise for some time, which was defeated by unexpected heavy receipts up to this time. Run is 10,000 today, market 10 to 25 higher. Demand for feeding stock is good. Fat lambs bring $7.00 to $7.35, feeding lambs around $6.25, yearlings up to $6.00, wethers $4.75, ewes $4.25.

J. A. RICKART, Market Correspondent.

Morning Star Lodge, No. 20, Daughters of Rebekah, will give a dance in Brier's Hall on New Year's Eve, December 31st.

VICTIM OF GRUDGE

Shooting Took Place Monday Near Colorado-New Mexico Boundary

Colonel Samuel Truby was shot through the neck and chest and David McCullough was wounded in the leg in a clash between the two factions of the Truby-Cox feudists near the Colorado-New Mexico boundary line near Durango on Monday.

McCullough declares that the shooting was done by Ike Cox, John Graves and Jess Carmell and that the assailants made the attack from the rim of Cox canyon through which he and Colonel Truby were riding when the fusillade was begun. The feud begun in 1911 when Samuel Truby, Jr., was killed by Ike Cox, the second chapter taking place a few months later when Cox was shot and seriously wounded by Andrew Rudy, a cousin of the Truby's. A charge of murder is still pending against Cox for the Truby killing.

There is some question as to whether yesterday's clash occurred on Colorado or New Mexico soil and until this point is settled to the satisfaction of the authorities, no warrants will be issued.

RANGERS LAID OFF

Supervisor T. T. Swift has received instructions to lay off two of his three rangers. Lots were drawn by the three, Gerald Merrill drawing the lucky number.

One ranger will have a good chance of attending to all the duties on the Crook Forest Reserve.

It is stated that the change has been made to economize, but most people believe that it was done to create vacancies, to be filled later with eastern men.

The department has sent Mr. Swift $1,500 to be spent improving the roads on the reserve.

THIRTY WERE KILLED

Thirty persons were instantly killed and fifty more injured, some of them fatally, in a wreck on the Yazoo & Mississippi valley railroad twenty-seven miles north of New Orleans early last Monday when a through freight train crashed into the rear of an excursion train of ten coaches. Five of the passenger coaches were burned and it is believed that many of the victims were cremated. Nine bodies have so far been recovered from the wreckage.

NEW DECORATIONS

Roderick Williams, one of our enterprising citizens has some of By Smith's employees arranging his yard for roses and trees to be planted around his cottage.

Mr. Williams will have one of the prettiest homes in town when the present plans of decoration are carried out. If all of our citizens would do more of this kind of boasting for Safford, we would see a great improvement in the town.

CONGRATULATIONS

To the women of Arizona and Graham county in particular, I extend congratulations. I have no fear whatsoever but that the confidence in our intelligence and good judgment shown by the men of the state will be fully justified; and that it will be shown that our womanhood is dignified by placing us above the plane of the criminal and idiot onto the higher level of citizenship.

INEZ H. LEE.

FOR ASSAULT

On complaint of J. M. Foster Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Broshars were before Justice Fonda last Monday charged with assault with a deadly weapon. Both cases were dismissed.

Mr. Foster then swore out similar complaints in the Justice court at Solomonville. The hearing will be held tomorrow.

Parents and Teachers' Meeting

The Parents and Teachers' Association of the valley will meet at Pima on Saturday, November 23d. Every parent is urged to be present as the questions to be discussed are of vital interest to them.

Every teacher in the county should feel it his duty to attend.

C. W. B. LANE, Vice President.

THE OLD FOLKS' DAY

To Be Held in the Thatcher Amusement Hall, Saturday, November 23

Graham County's Old Folks' Day has been fixed for Saturday, November 23d, in the Thatcher Amusement Hall.

The local committees in each of the towns are expected to see that all the old folks have a way of going to and from Thatcher, and also raise a sufficient fund to bear their part of the expenses.

Besides a grand banquet to be given at 12 o'clock, the county committee has arranged with local talent to give a play in the afternoon for the entertainment of the old folks. Prizes will be given as usual.

THE LOTTERY MAN

"The most beautiful play of all ages."—Chicago Daily News.

"The most remarkable play in the English language."—Harper's Magazine.

"A drama which combines in an unusual degree absorbing interest as a play with keen satire of certain tendency in the church."—The Outlook. Brier's Hall in December.

MEXICAN DISHES

Mrs. Billy Robertson serves hot tamales, enchiladas and other Mexican dishes every Saturday night at her residence across the street from Kirtland's blacksmith shop.

HURT WITH SAW

While sawing wood with a gasoline engine and buzz saw at Glen Root's ranch Jamie Robinson was caught in the saw and had his right arm badly injured.

$10 Reward

Ten dollars reward will be given for information leading to recovery of Collie dog which strayed or was stolen from the Indian Hot Springs about two weeks ago. The dog answers to the name of "Major," is two years old, light tan color with white around neck, rather large in size and very kind, friendly expression on face. Dog answering this description was seen in Safford last week. Address, A. C. ALEXANDER, Indian Hot Springs, Ariz. 39-1t

Mrs. Anna Bourne, state manager of The Fraternal Brotherhood, of Phoenix, was a visitor here Tuesday.

Berry Foster arrived home from El Tygre, Mex., to visit with his parents and friends for a short time.

H. J. Dowdle went to Douglas Friday morning where he bought a bunch of steers, which will be shipped to Bowie and from there driven about fifteen miles north to the Tin Ranch, in Graham county.

Mr. and Mrs. Amon Sims left for Globe Sunday evening where they will visit for some time with relatives and friends.

Frank Nelson returned home from Los Angeles Sunday evening, where he had been for some time.

Mr. Evans, the Alta Coffee man, was a visitor in town several days this week.

D. Thompson, Safford's jeweler, is confined to his home this week with illness.

Mrs. E. A. Groesbeck left Monday morning for Douglas, where she will spend the winter.

Cut the old cottonwoods down and plant new trees. We take contracts for this work; also plowing and arranging new yards. See By Smith. 39-1t

WANTED—To buy a good second hand buggy and harness. Apply at Robinsons residence after 5 p. m. or Sundays. 39-1t

Pitt Rogers had the misfortune to get tangled up with a circular saw, while sawing wood on Wednesday, and is now minus two fingers.

Graham County Sunday School Convention will be held in Safford next Thursday. The morning and afternoon sessions will be held in the Methodist church, and the evening session in the Baptist church. Mr. Merritt, the Sunday school expert, will be here and address all the meetings.

CHAMBER COMMERCE

Some Interesting Work Done at the Regular Meeting Tuesday Night

While the attendance was not large at the regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night, the enthusiasm displayed over every project brought up for the betterment of the valley caused State Engineer Cobb to remark that it is one of the best Chambers of Commerce he had ever seen.

The principal subject under discussion was state highways, and to assist in that discussion were present State Engineer Cobb, with two assistants, Messrs. Linny and Goodman, Supervisors Merrill and Peterson and Senator Pace. The proposition was thoroughly discussed until everyone was satisfied that the only way to get good roads and get in time for those now living to enjoy them was to bond the state. A resolution was passed requesting our members of the legislature to work for a $10,000,000 State bond issue for road purposes, the bonds to be sold as the money is required.

The Board of Supervisors was also requested to appoint one or more delegates to attend a convention to be held in Yuma on November 21st for the purpose of devising ways and means for handling flood waters so as to save the water and stop the destruction of life and property.

It was also the opinion of those present that the State should make an appropriation for an exhibit at the San Diego exposition.

Through the Chamber a delegation will meet with the board of army engineers in Globe tomorrow to bring to their attention the necessity of improving the Gila river bed.

A HORRIBLE STORY

A War Correspondent Tells of Some of the Misery in Turkey

Jean Rodas, staff correspondent of Temps, who reached Constantinople from the war zone, sends a vivid picture of the misery of the Turkish soldiers and the disorganization of the army. He says: "We have witnessed the failure of the Turk as a soldier. We have seen him dying from hunger, worn out from fatigue, running away after having abandoned his place in the combat. I have never seen a more poignant picture of human distress than has been presented by these unhappy men, thrown into one of the most terrible wars of history, without food, without medical attention, almost without arms. I saw a soldier whose right hand had been severed hold the stump out to us, begging medical help. Around the stump of the arm he had tied a piece of twine.

"I saw long lines of famished men who came out of their tents begging crumbs of bread, staggering away without a murmur or complaint when told we had none to give. I saw a thousand wounded leaving a trail of blood as they dragged themselves toward Tcherli. I saw hundreds of others fall by the wayside dying of wounds and fatigue.

"At Tcherli there was no shelter and nothing to eat. All houses were closed. The population had fled. Those who remained barricaded themselves within with trembling and fear. The soldiers knocked vainly at the barred doors. Groups shivering from cold tried the doors and stables to seek a refuge; when the stables were inhospitable. The refugees smashed their way into ships and devoured all they found, including raw vegetables and candles. They even sucked at pieces of greasy wood. I never saw such an image of inferno.

"I do not know whether accusations of a massacre are exact but so far as I could observe I can only affirm that not only the Turks committed no excesses but I believe no army in the world under such frightful circumstances have been more moderate or more docile."

MURDER AND SUICIDE

Two Killed, Two Wounded and One Suicide in a Few Minutes

CLIFTON, Ariz., Nov. 13.—Franklin B. Dorr, founder of the Douglas Daily Dispatch, was shot and killed by William Allender at the close of the performance last night at a moving picture theatre which Dorr recently purchased. Allender used a shotgun and the second barrel killed John Barrone, a saloon keeper. Two Mexicans were wounded, one fatally. After the shooting Allender barricaded himself in his carpenter shop which was surrounded by officers and armed citizens who shot into the building. After being wounded several times and seeing that escape was impossible, Allender blew off the top of his head with a revolver. Financial differences were the cause of the murder. Allender was the former owner of the theater. Dorr, until recently was a law partner of United States Attorney Morrison at Bisbee.

SAFFORD SCHOOL NOTES

Enrollment for October Is 260 With an Attendance of 236

The enrollment for October was 260. This was seven pupils less than for September, but the average attendance was better, being over 236.

This year the former system of segregating the boys and girls, giving each sex their own playgrounds has been again adopted and seems to be an improvement over last year. Eight of the larger girls have purchased a croquet set and are enjoying that sport.

The ball team has been in very poor shape this year, the second team being about as good as the first. They have won all the games played with Layton and have lost all those played with Thatcher.

The pupils of the principal's room will give a bazaar the afternoon before Thanksgiving, when all kinds of articles made by the pupils themselves will be sold. The proceeds will be used to purchase library books, which are badly needed. Every one is earnestly requested to come to the school house the afternoon before Thanksgiving, and to purchase liberally.

REVIVAL

The revival at the Baptist church is still in progress. Many have confessed Christ. About ten have already united with the church and others will follow.

The Chapel Car evangelists have made a good impression on the people who hear them. They preach pure gospel that all people like to hear.

There will be no service Saturday night. But we expect a great day Sunday. There will be baptizing Sunday 3 p. m. Arrangements are being made to place a tank at the church, so that service can be held there.

EASTERN STAR MEETING

A special meeting of Arcadia Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was held Wednesday night at which Mrs. Will Clark, Miss Daisy McCollum and Enoch Clark became members of the order. After the beautiful and impressive ceremony of initiation was performed, a delicious lunch of sandwiches, salad, pickles, olives, cake and coffee was served. Several members from other lodges of the order were present.

A BIG CONVENTION

Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association Met in Santa Fe New Mexico

One of the most important meetings ever held for making better roads was that held in Santa Fe last Monday and Tuesday, at which hundreds of delegates and interested citizens gathered from every state in the Union. It is through this Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Association that National aid for an ocean-to-ocean highway is going to be procured.

Graham county sent as a delegate R. W. Smith, who got busy immediately he landed in Santa Fe and grabbed the secretaryship of the convention.

TEACHERS AND PARENTS

First Meeting Held in Thatcher on Thursday Last

The Thatcher Teachers and Parents' meeting, the first one of this school term, was held in the Gila Academy building last Thursday evening, November 7th.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Heber Larson. Prof. D. B. Jones was elected chairman and Miss Grace Powe, secretary.

The usual program, prepared by the program committee, then followed. It was begun by Miss Etta Lee who very enthusiastically discussed that old but ever important subject of "attendance and punctuality."

In his effect upon the child and the school. Discussions followed in which Messrs. Evans Coleman, Nash, Layton and Jones took part. We were then favored with a well rendered piano solo by Miss Velma Heywood. The next on program was "Compulsory School Law" to be discussed by A. C. Peterson, but as there was another subject of more interest and importance to the community just at present; it was best to postpone the compulsory school law subject and give the time to the other—that of the "Contagious Disease," that is now infesting the community. The discussion was led by Evans Coleman and was continued by Messrs. C. M. Layton, J. P. Nash, Heber Larson and W. W. Pace; also Mesdames Moody, Heywood and others. They discussed the advisability of closing the schools and it seemed that the majority was not in favor of it, but all were very much in favor of enforcing the quarantine law and supporting Dr. Dryden in what he is doing to suppress the disease. A motion was finally made and carried that the health officers be instructed to carry out the quarantine law as forcefully as the law will permit and that all precaution possible be used.

The meeting closed with a comic reading by Mrs. Kate Robinson, which was greatly enjoyed after the very grave discussion that preceded.

There being no further business a motion to adjourn was made and the meeting closed.

GRACE G. PANE, Secretary.

Dr. W. J. Galbraith and A. G. Smith went to Globe Sunday.

Z. C. Prina came home Friday from Phoenix.

WAS TIRED OF LIFE

Owner of Appeal to Reason is a Suicide at His Home

J. A. Wayland, founder, part-owner, and one of the editors of the Appeal to Reason, the national Socialist paper, in Girard, Kansas, shot and killed himself early last Monday at his home. He was unconscious when found by his housekeeper shortly after midnight and died a few minutes later. He had fired a bullet into his mouth, muffled the report with bed clothes between the leaves of a book lying on the bed he had written:

"The struggle under the competitive system is not quite worth while. Let it pass."

Wayland was to have appeared in the federal court at Fort Scott last Monday to answer to a charge of circulating defamatory matter thru the mail. He has been despondent since the death of his wife in an automobile accident a year ago.
